

Architect Support Program

AEP Span offers architects more than high quality metal roofing and siding products for their projects. We also offer a complete integrated Architect Support Program. Our program is structured to assist architects from product identification through final design submission, and beyond.

PROVIDING METAL ROOF AND WALL SOLUTIONS FOR ARCHITECTS

ARCHITECT CENTER: The ability to quickly locate product information for your next project is critical. That's why our new architect center is the single source for architects. From color, product design options and visualization to technical support and education...our Architect Center has it all.

DESIGN CONSULTING: Getting answers to design questions from a manufacturer is not always easy. AEP Span has bridged that gap by offering a dedicated architectural consultant to help in the areas of design, selection, coordination, and has an understanding of architectural metal and roof systems.

LEED/GREEN CONSULTING: Navigating green building requirements can sometimes be a challenge. We are committed to environmental stewardship and provide consulting services to architects to help them understand how our products meet LEED/Green project requirements.

TECHNICAL SERVICES: Our technical services team is here to answer questions regarding specifications, calculations, custom detailing, drawings, product, engineering, and installation concerns.

MARKETING CONSULTING: Driving your brand is critical to your business. Many firms may not have the staff or level of expertise to develop and implement a marketing strategy preparing them for growth. Our Marketing Partnership Program is designed to help drive your business to the next level by providing marketing support.
